Children's Photos

Are the hardest of all to make well until you become accustomed to the task. Mothers tell us we are at our best when making photos of the little ones. Our quaint, unique poses—faithful likenesses—and dainty style of finishing photos find favor in every mother's eyes.

A FEW MAXIMS

Selections From Mark Twain's
"More Tramps."

OUT OF A NEW CALENDAR

Not Gathered From Practice—Observation—When In Doubt—Why Truth is Strange.

In Mark Twain's "More Tramps Abroad," just published, there are many samples of wit and wisdom. His best and most cynical sayings are printed as mottoes to the chapters, and profess to be extracts from Pudd'nhead Wilson's new calendar. Of these maxims take a handful as samples. Of the maxims themselves their author says:

These wisdoms are for the luring of youth towards high moral attitudes.
The author did not gather them from practice, but from observation.

To be good is nobler and no trouble:
When in doubt tell the truth.
Noise proves nothing. Often a hen who has merely laid an egg cackles as if she had laid an asteroid.

History is better than prophecy; in fact history is a prophecy, and history says that where a weak and ignorant people possess a thing which a strong and enlightened people want, it must be yielded up peaceably.

Honesty is the best policy, but sometimes the appearance of it is worth six of it.

We can secure other people's approval if we do right and try hard, but our own is worth a hundred of it, and no way has been found out to secure that.

Truth is stranger than fiction, but it is because fiction is obliged to stick to possibilities; truth is not.

It is by the goodness of God that we have the possession of three unspeakably precious things—freedom of speech, freedom of conscience, and the prudence of using neither of them.

Nothing is so important as a man's left hand, unless it be a lady's watch.
Man is the only animal that blushes or that needs to.

The man with the new idea is a crank until the idea succeeds.

There are many scapegoats for our sins, but the most popular is Providence.

Let us be thankful for the fools; but for them the rest of us could not succeed.

When people do not respect us we are sharply offended; yet deep down in his private heart no man respects himself.

There are several good protections against temptation, but the surest is cowardice.

Hunger is the handmaid of genius.
Grief can take care of itself, but to get the full value of joy you must have somebody to divide it with.

Let me make the superstitions of a nation, and I care not who makes its laws or its songs either.

Wrinkles should merely indicate where the smiles have been.

There are two times in a man's life when he cannot afford to speculate; when he cannot afford it, and when he can.

Make a point to do something every day that you do not want to do. This is the golden rule for acquiring a habit of doing your duty without pain.

Two pointed questions answered.

What is the use of making a better article than your competitor if you can not get a better price for it?

Ans.—As there is no difference in the price the public will buy only the better, so that while our profits may be smaller on a single sale they will be much greater in the aggregate.

How can you get the public to know your make is the best?

If both articles are brought promi-nently before the public both are certain to be tried and the public will very quickly pass judgment on them and use only the better one.

This explains the large sale on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The people have been using it for years and have found that it can always be depended upon. They may occasionally take up with some fashionable novelty put forth with exaggerated claims, but are certain to return to the one remedy that they know to be reliable, and for coughs, colds and croup there is nothing equal to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. For sale by all druggists and dealers. Benson,

AFRICA A BATTLE GROUND.

Prophets of a great war in the closing hours of the Nineteenth Century are looking to Africa for their confirmation. With England and France in a belligerent attitude toward each other over the claims of Major Marchand at Fashoda, and General Joubert of "Oom Paul's" army fighting the hordes of Chief Opefu in the Transvaal, the situation is ominous.

BETWEEN CALIFORNIA AND SAC-RAMENTO STREETS,
San Francisco, California.

Twenty years of successful experience as a Real Estate Agent enables me to state that I have done well for investors, when they followed my advice.

The attention of those having money to invest is called to the fact that there are great opportunities to make splendid investments in San Francisco Real Estate at the present time. The condition of realty at present favors the buyer. This is the time to invest when properties can be purchased at low prices.

San Francisco has a great future; all unite on this point. It is to be the great city of the Pacific Coast and the man who buys now will make himself rich.

I offer my experience and knowledge of values of property to those who desire to purchase business properties for income, or improved lots or blocks for investment. Information cheerfully given in reference to all matters pertaining to Real Estate in San Francisco. I will be happy to correspond in relation thereto.

Sometimes estates are divided, and the property has to be sold; in this way fine purchases can be made. The undersigned possesses information of all such sales and can advise buyers as to values.

Money invested on Real Estate security for those who desire to loan their money.

Full charge taken of properties and taxes paid for absent owners.
